Emor — אמור

May 14, 2022 – 13 Iyar, 5782

This week's Parasha deals with regulations concerning priests and the Sanctuary. Whatever comes near, or is presented, to God must be perfect of its kind. Priests, therefore, must be free from physical defects or ceremonial impurity, and sacrifices must be without blemish. Holiness is intended for the whole Community of Israel. But since the priests were closely and constantly associated with the ritual of the Sanctuary, special laws were instituted for them and a higher standard was demanded.

Emor. David Baruch Wolk

The Parasha continues with a comprehensive description of the sacred seasons in the Jewish year: Passover, Shavuot, Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, Sukkot, and of course, Shabbat. They are to be proclaimed as 'holy convocations'.

The Parasha concludes with describing the constant duty of the priests to make sure that the lamp is kept perpetually alight and the showbread regularly arranged—even during the special seasons of the year mentioned previously when the attention and energies of those who served in the Temple were otherwise taxed to the full.

This Day in History: Iyar 13

In 1427, a decree was issued ordering all Jews expelled from Berne, Switzerland. Jews have wandered and settled in over 100 lands on five continents. Throughout the Middle Ages, Jews were subject to frequent expulsions. And amazingly, 90 percent of Jewish families were uprooted in the 20th century -- with mass immigration to America and Israel, and the tragic Holocaust. This is prophesied in Leviticus 26:33: "I will scatter you among the nations..." Yet amidst it all, the Jewish people have miraculously maintained their distinct national identity.
