Lech-Lecha - לך-לך

October 31, 2020 – 13 Cheshvan, 5781

It has now been 20 generations since Adam and Eve, and God has decided upon Abram as the person who will make His name known throughout the world. God speaks to Abram and commands him to leave the land he and his family have been living on and to go to a new land which God will show him. God promises him that he will be made into a great nation and that, through him, all the families of the earth will be blessed. Abram, his wife Sarai, and his nephew Lot, journey to the land of Canaan, where Abram builds an altar and spreads the message of the one God.

A famine forces them to go to Egypt, where Sarai is taken to Pharaoh's palace. Abram escapes death because he tells Pharaoh that Sarai is his sister. A plague prevents the Egyptian king from touching her, and convinces him to return her to Abram and to compensate Abram with gold, silver and cattle.

Back in the land of Canaan, Abram and Lot decide to go their separate ways because the land cannot support both of them. Lot settles in Sodom, where he is captured by Chedorlaomer and his 3 allies in the War of the Kings. Abram rescues his nephew, defeats the four kings, and is blessed by Malki-Zedek, the king of Salem (Jerusalem).

God makes a covenant with Abram, in which he and his descendants are promised the land which will come to be known as the Land of Israel, and where the exile and persecution of the people of (Continued on next page...)

Abram is concerned because he still has no child as his heir. Sarai tells Abram to marry her maidservant Hagar. Hagar becomes pregnant and immediately becomes contemptuous toward Sarai. Hagar flees when Sarai treats her harshly; an angel convinces her to return, and tells her that her son will father a populous nation. Ishmael is born when Abram is 86 years old.

When Abram is 99, God changes Abram's name to Abraham ("father of multitudes"), and Sarai's to Sarah ("princess"), and promises that a son will be born to them, and that from this child, whom they should call Isaac ("will laugh"), will come the great nation with which God will establish His special bond. Abraham is commanded to circumcise himself and his descendants as a "sign of the covenant between Me and you." Abraham immediately complies, circumcising himself and all the males of his household.
