Vayeshev - וישב

December 12, 2020 – 26 Kislev, 5781

In last week's Parasha, we learned how Jacob returned to Canaan after a twenty year stay in his uncle's town of Haran. Now that he is back in Canaan, Jacob feels that he deserves to rest and enjoy his family consisting of his children and grandchildren. Jacob shows that Joseph, the son from his beloved Rachel, is his favorite. He treats him differently than his other 11 sons, and the most obvious thing is that he makes him a special coat, whereby everyone could see that he is the favorite.

Joseph is not shy about showing his brothers that he has big plans for his future—that he will be the one to lead the family. He shares with them 2 dreams which would easily be interpreted as the day will come when they will come to bow down to him. The brothers are very jealous. For this reason they hate him and they can never have a peaceful conversation.

The brothers take their father's sheep for grazing far away from Hebron and Jacob asks Joseph to go and check on the well-being of his brothers and the sheep.

Joseph Receives His Coat,

(Continued from First Page...) When the brothers see him from afar, they plot to kill him and use the coat as the proof of his death by putting blood from a goat on it and let it be believed that he was killed by a wild animal.

Reuben saves him from certain death and recommends that they throw him in a pit, which they do.

Judah suggests that they sell him as a slave to a company of traders, which they do. Joseph is taken down to Egypt where he is sold to Potiphar, the head of Pharaoh's guards. He is very successful in Egypt and rises to become the head of Potiphar's household. When Potiphar's wife cannot convince him to have relations with her, she accuses him of attempted rape, and he is thrown in jail.

In the prison, Joseph was assigned to tend to two important prisoners, Pharaoh's chief butler and Pharaoh's chief baker. One morning, Joseph noticed that they seemed to be very disturbed. He asked them for an explanation as to their anxiety. They related dreams they had had that night. Joseph interpreted their dreams. And a few days later, they were brought before the king and were given sentences just like Joseph had interpreted. As a favor, Joseph asked these important people to help him get out of jail because he was innocent of all charges, but they forgot about him and did not help him at all.
