Chaye Sarah - חיי שרה

November 23, 2019—25 Cheshvan, 5780

When Abraham and Isaac returned from their trip to Mt. Moriah for the Binding of Isaac, they find out that Sarah had died at the age of 127. The beginning of this Parasha describes in detail how Abraham purchased the Cave of Machpela from Efron the Hittite to be used as the burial place for Sarah. Though Efron offered the site as a gift to Abraham, Abraham insisted and paid full value for the cave and the land around it. This was done in public and witnessed by all the elders and the people of Hebron.

Eliezer and Rebecca, Moshe Castel

Before dying, Abraham wanted to make sure that Isaac marries a woman from his birthplace and not from the women in Canaan. He assigns the task to his devoted servant Eliezer. Abraham makes him swear that he will go to Nahor in Mesopotamia and there find a girl for Isaac. Should the girl not be willing to travel to Canaan, Eliezer is released from his oath, but under no circumstances is Isaac to leave Canaan. (Continued on next page...)

Parshat Continued: Chaye Sarah - חיי שרה

(...Continued from first page.) This is the land that God promised to Abraham's descendants and, therefore, Isaac should remain in Canaan. The Torah describes how Eliezer determines who will be qualified to be Isaac's wife. He decides that he will ask for a drink of water from one of the girls who come to the well to fetch water. The girl that will offer him water as well as be willing to fetch water for all his camels will be the one that God had destined for Isaac. Rebecca, who happens to be Isaac's cousin, is the one who comes down to the well. Not only does she offer water to Eliezer, but runs to the well and fills up the trough until all the camels had their drink.

Eliezer meets with Rebecca's family and tells them the story. They all realize that, indeed, this was an act of God and they agree to let her go. They ask her if she is willing to follow this stranger to Canaan and she agrees. The Torah states that Isaac married Rebecca and that he loved her.
